LOUISVILLE, MONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 8, 1869.

NEW SERIES--VOL. I, NO. 181.

THE CITY.

For Frankfort.

Mr. S. Fraize, Sheriff of Breckinridge county, arrived in the city yesterday in charge of George W. Brasham, who is on his way to Frankfort to take up a three years' residence in one of the State institutions, having been induced to take this step as a cure for his malady of counterfeiting United States fractional currency.

Our Manufactures.

Messrs. J. S. Joplin, of Lexington, and J. H. Deters, of Cincinnati, have leased that large and commodious building at the N. E. corner of Main and Fifth streets, lately occupied as a wholesale drug house by the old firm of Wilson, Peter & Co., and will establish therein a large manufactory of boots and shoes, during the coming week. They will employ not less than one hundred and fifty hands.

The F. C. A. Ball.

The first grand ball of the F. C. A. will be given to-night at Weisiger Hall, and promises to be a very delightful affair. Hugh F. Kennedy, Chris. Pflieder and Ed. Thomas are the committee of arrangements; Phil. McGovern and Jos. Haslett the musical directors, while the following gentlemen are announced as the floor managers: Messrs. John A. Larkins, Chas. E. Kendall, Walter W. Klemp, Wm. H. Hosen, N. B. Berry and C. McGoff. Tickets $1.

The Best Cigars in the Market.

Can be had at Edward Peynado & Co.'s, Galt House stand.

Musical Treat.

Prof. Louis Hast designs giving a series of concerts, with the object of illustrating the rise and progress of music from its earliest history to the present time. Each illustration will be both musical and historical, and cannot fail to commend itself to the music-lovers of this music-loving community. Prof. Hast is not only a master of practical music, but he is theoretically one of the deepest scholars in all the country, and possesses a fund of knowledge very rare in these days. Due information will be given of the place and time for these illustrations.

Military Ball.

The second annual ball of the Helm Guards, as will be seen by reference to their advertisement in another column, will take place at Odd Fellows' Hall, Jefferson street, near First, on Monday evening, November 22nd. The object of this ball, as we are told, is principally to raise funds wherewith to purchase a new uniform, as the old one is somewhat rusty from the effects of the late campaign in Marion. Good music will be in attendance and the best of order preserved. They deserve to make a grand success of the affair, and we hope our friends and the friends of the company will patronize them liberally.

If you wish to smoke a good imported cigar.

buy from Edward Peynado & Co., Louisville Hotel stand.

Louisville Opera House.

To-night Mr. Neil Warner will make his first appearance before the public of Louisville in a round of tragedy characters. Mr. Warner comes to us from abroad, having made a very successful tour through Australia, and thence via San Francisco. The papers of the latter city are very loud in his praise, and we anticipate a week's enjoyment of Shakespearean representations, such as we have not had in several months. He will appear this evening as Hamlet, the "melancholy prince," one of the most difficult characters in the whole range of tragedy. He will be supported by the full strength of the company in an excellent cast, and we anticipate a full house.

Ed. Edward Peynado & Co.

are the sole direct importers of Havana cigars in Louisville, Ky.

Notice.

The firm of Joy, Coe & Co., New York, advertising agents, one of the oldest established houses of the kind in the country, who, by the way, in 1857, succeeded the Pioneer Advertising Agency of V. B. Palmer, have dissolved. Mr. Sharpe, who has been the active member of the firm for many years, and who is known among the newspapers of New York as an energetic, upright business man of long experience, will continue the general advertising business as heretofore in the Tribune building, under the firm name of W. W. Sharpe & Co. Messrs. Sharpe & Co. have added greatly to their facilities for doing an extensive business, and have now on file all the newspapers of the United States and Canada, which may be consulted at any time. We wish them continued success.

The Locked Game.

Officer Cralle locked John Thomas, a negro, yesterday, in the vicinity of the Nashville depot, as a suspected felon. He had on his person some sixty dollars in money, a very fine gold watch, and a means of playing a new kind of game on the unsuspecting. This was a couple of minute brass padlocks. One of them was locked and unlocked by a secret spring; the other would not open at all. The game of fleeing is played by the operator opening and shutting the workable lock in the presence of some "greeney," and then betting that he can't open it. If he bites at the bait the other lock is put into his hand, and as they are exactly alike he is not apt to suspect anything. In the afternoon Officers Cave and Cralle arrested Joe Hall, another negro, on the charge of being an accomplice of Thomas. They will be examined in court to-day.

Christmas is Coming.

On entering the establishment of C. G. Block & Co., north side of Market street, between Third and Fourth, it will be seen that Santa Claus has forwarded a most beautiful and plentiful assortment of Christmas goods to make young and old happy. The above establishment is one of the largest and most complete of its kind in the Western country. By passing through the large four-story building—25 feet front by 150 feet deep—and the workshop in the rear, we found the house filled with goods of every conceivable kind in their line. They not only manufacture candies, in excessively large quantities, but they deal wholesale in holiday goods and toys of every style; in foreign fruits, nuts, canned fruits, vegetables, oysters, sardines, pickles, and innumerable other goods classed as fancy groceries. They are also agents for all kinds of fire-works, and are, therefore, enabled to sell them at manufacturers' prices. In fact, their stock and assortment is so large and complete, that a whole column of the Express would not suffice to give all in detail.

They give employment to nineteen men constantly, and have, besides, a reserve corps, to call in when needed. In their candy factories workmen are busy melting, pulling, molding, twisting, cutting, and decorating the pure sugar into hundreds of styles and shapes, making candy fruits and toys, of all sizes and patterns, for their trade, in their own manufactory, of which they now supply largely the confectioners of this city, and those of hundreds of towns throughout this and the Southern States. In the few years since they began business, they have been so attentive, enterprising and liberal, that their trade has grown beyond all precedence. They deserve all the patronage they have received in the past, and all they hope for in the future. Country merchants visiting our city, should not neglect to inspect their stock of goods and manufactures before purchasing elsewhere. For purity, as well as well-keeping, their goods will recommend themselves, and the hosts of their customers are the fruits of adherence to their word—to sell large quantities at small profits.

"THREE BLACK CROWS."

How Reports do Grow.
A terrible report reached the city yesterday, to the following effect: That, on Saturday evening, a lady engaged a negro hackman to take her to a house on the Bardstown road, some three or four miles from the city, and the next known was that she was found on the road-side, badly cut and bruised, and nearly dead from loss of blood, and there were rumors that she had been ravished. Officers went to the locality and investigated the affair, having first, from the information, arrested the hack driver. On arrival at the place there were no "three black crows" there. The facts were about as follows: A servant girl in the family, perhaps twenty years of age, was in town, and being fond of liquor, took too much. Some of her friends, on Floyd street, between Main and Market, sent for the hack and had to put her in, as she was too far gone to get in herself. When he arrived at the place, she would not get out, with all his persuasion, and finally, just before dusk, tired of her actions, he determined to bring her back to town, and turned the hack around, when she, in the effort to get out, fell with her head against the glass of the door, breaking it and cutting her face. She then left the hack and he returned to town. She exonerated the hackman from all blame, and, on the return of the officers, he was discharged from custody.

MASONIC WIDOWS' AND ORPHANS' HOME.

It has been proposed to get up a theatrical entertainment by some of the amateurs, and the Kentucky Club has taken in hand to make all the necessary arrangements. The committee appointed by the club for that purpose held a meeting Saturday afternoon in the ladies' parlor of the Masonic Temple, consisting of the following members of the club: Messrs. J. S. Pindle, O. A. Withers, G. S. Essex, Wm. Johnston and J. H. Zanone, and Messrs. J. V. Cowling, J. H. Leathers, E. G. Wigginton and C. G. Davidson representing the ladies' society. All the arrangements are to remain in the hands of the Kentucky Club. When they have selected the plays to be performed then the ladies are to assist, if necessary, in securing players. The arrangements will be so far matured that the programme can be announced sometime this week, and there is no doubt the public will liberally support and encourage the undertaking.

New York City.

Masonic Temple, during last week, twice a day, was the resort of hundreds upon hundreds, to see and enjoy the panoramic view of New York City. Everybody in this community has read of Broadway, with its thousand attractions, its crush and crowd of vehicles and pedestrians, its fashion and gaiety. They have in this panorama a distinct view of all the objects of interest in that tremendous thoroughfare. Then the view of the shipping, which crowds the docks and wharves for miles, is of itself, a feature of very great interest—a curiosity to thousands of western people, who are not accustomed to seeing ships from all countries, men-of-war, etc., with their huge, towering masts and their sails. Then the Battery, with its fountains and walks, and its gay crowds of promenaders. All these make up a view full of interest. Exhibitions will be given at 3 and 7 P. M. to-day.

T. T. SHREVE.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The arrests last night, up to 12 o'clock, foot up as follows: At the First-street station, four, of whom two were boys of fifteen and sixteen years. At Clay street, one. At the jail, one; the last was a woman. All of these arrests were for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

More Iron.

The Leslie Combs arrived yesterday from the Hanging Rock region, with three barges loaded with pig iron. One of them was left at Jeffersonville; the other two brought to the city wharf. When shall we be able to chronicle the arrival of iron from Kentucky furnaces?

Weather.

The pleasant weather we have had for several days was brought to a sudden termination Saturday night, with a spit of snow and a cold wind from the north. Yesterday was clear but cold, making ice freely.

German Theatricals.

The German theater in Turner's Hall, on Jefferson street, east of Preston, was pretty well filled last night to witness the performance of some piece of which we are not able to give the name.

Funerals.

When ten o'clock was to be rung on the bells last night, there was a hitch somewhere, and, instead of ten, an alarm was sounded as if from Station 11. There was no fire.

SAMUEL MANTY, M. D., Sec'y Board of Health.

SAINT-BEUVE.

Cause of his Death—A Surgical Blunder.

Paris correspondence N. Y. Tribune.

PARIS, October 18.

Saint-Beuve, "the master of all of us," as Matthew Arnold calls him, died on Wednesday, the 13th instant, at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon. His epitaph is not yet written, and I doubt if, when it is, it will contain the melancholy, but, alas, too true, statement that he was murdered by his physicians. It would be unnecessary cruelty to give their names, which for the rest are too famous to be hid, but the post-mortem examination of the body of the illustrious writer established their responsibility, if not for his death, and this it would be great grace to allow, at least for the prolonged and awful sufferings to which the last few years of his life were a prey.

Arrival of Hogs.

One of the largest hog-trains ever brought to the city arrived here yesterday from Lexington. It consisted of twenty-three cars, all heavily loaded with fat porkers. Whether they come for a market or on engagement, we were not able to learn.

Scissors Fall.

Saturday night Mr. Geo. A. Houghton, one of the United States Inspectors for this district, was on his way home, and at the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Portland avenue, fell into the excavation made for the sewer, now in course of construction at that point. His wrist and ankle were very seriously injured, requiring the attendance of a surgeon. There was no gas lamp near, nor was there any barricade erected, and the cut had been made into or under the sidewalk.

Terre Haute has a saloon in which boys are permitted to practice prize fighting for the amusement of customers, and are treated with liquor for their services.

Nearly a Disastrous Fire.

About four o'clock yesterday morning the watchman at the depot of the Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington Railroad Company discovered a fire under full headway in the office of the secretary. The alarm was given, and the engines arrived speedily. The flames were extinguished in a few minutes, and a disastrous fire thus checked. The floor and floor timbers were burned through for a space of two or three feet each way, and the flames had taken hold of the door-casings. In fifteen minutes longer, the fire would have obtained a fair start, and with the wind blowing at that time, there is no telling what damage might have been done. The fire is supposed to have caught from a cigar stump, thrown into a wooden spit-box filled with saw-dust, in which it slowly gathered force through the hours of the night.

Spoiled.

A darky spoiled an item last night about eleven o'clock. A great disturbance occurred in a two-story frame house on Jefferson street, just below Brook; but before the arrival of the police the darky raising it out of a side door and made his escape. He didn't stay out of doors very long in the cold, for an old woman in the house said he was undressed.

Disgraceful.

Saturday afternoon, on Eleventh street, between Walnut and Madison, two white women got into a fight with each other, drawing around them a crowd of niggers and boys, to whom the scene appeared to be full of interest. They pulled hair, scratched faces and indulged in "cuss" words with a vengeance. No arrests were made.

BASE BALL.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP SETTLED.

The Red Stockings Win.

We copy the Commercial's account of the base ball match at Cincinnati Saturday between the Red Stockings and the Mutuals. The weather was cold and the wind high:

The "Red Stockings" winning the toss, they chose the field, sending to the bat their opponents.

FIRST INNING.

Mutuals—Mr. Johnny Hatfield, so well known to this community, was the first to lead off for the "Sons of York." As he stepped to the home-plate, willow in hand, an outburst of applause greeted him. This was somewhat of a surprise, and cautiously he faced the lightning-speed balls of Brainerd's delivery. Then there came one in the range he desired; high into the air popped the ball, and then it dropped between center and left field safely, the striker planting himself upon the first base. Hatfield endeavored to steal to second, but he was thrown by Allison, beat him, and out he went, touched by George Wright. It was a close thing, however, but the decision was against him. E. Mills tolerably high fly is captured by Sweeney, who is playing some distance back of second. Flanley knocks the ball rumbling along to left field, and gains one base thereby. A pretty ground hit is made by C. Mills, but the activity of Waterman impedes its progress, and in time to Gould it is fielded.

The game has now begun, and its score showed an earnest of what we might expect the sharp, decisive command of the Captain, the eager attitude of the audience, all showed its effect at this moment. Never, perhaps, were spectators more fully aroused to their duty of watching, or players to their part of acting, as at 2 P. M. yesterday.

The occupants of the Grande Duchesse were as eager for their favorites' victory as ever were Spanish senators for their part in the last revolution. Man and maiden, stoic and enthusiastic, joined in the ecstatic joy of the moment.

Cincinnati—George Wright, as usual, is the avant courier for the men who are so well known as the wearers of the red hose. He makes a fine hit—a grounder—in right field, and sends the bases speedily scampers. He has not lost to remain there, as Charlie Gould makes a terrific hit, and a high fly is the consequence, away into left field near the fence, and Charlie makes a home run, with George "going on before him." Waterman lets Hatfield have an opportunity to do the deed, and right manfully he clutches the ball, but from the bat, and his superiority in throwing is displayed as he passes it to E. Mills, at first base. Allison tries at the plate, then strikes. But, alas! the ball turns into a "fly," and Hatfield catches it. Harry Wright makes a pretty ground hit toward third, and Hatfield determines to play as best he can, gets the ball and fields it to E. Mills in time. Side out and two runs scored. Hatfield had attracted general attention by his fine play. Every movement, every exertion on his part is greedily devoured by a scrutinizing assembly. He has the credit of putting out the side this inning, in one, two, three or four.

SECOND INNING.

Mutuals—Of course leading off in the dance; this time to be more favorable to the "Wearers of the Green." Swandell passed from the scene of action by a fly to George Wright. Comrade Eggle's happened on the first by a muff to Waterman of a liner. Gebney sent a ball among the top-sails, but had it nabbed on the drop by Leonard, who studied its aerial progress in his most scientific manner. A wild throw of Allison (and this most unusual) to the second base allowed Eggle to get home. Carlton made his first on called balls and by a sorry accident of Allison, who let the ball pass through his fingers, made his second, and comes home on Waterman's hit to right field; the latter getting his first by this piece of acrobatics. Hatfield's effect was marred by a beautiful running catch of Harry Wright. Two runs scored, and the side is out, as pretty as it was scientific, and as limited as our boys would well wish it.

Cincinnati—Leonard gets out at first by the play of Flanley to S. Mills, the latter fumbling with the ball a few seconds, but getting to his base in advance of Andy.

Brainerd's grounder to center allowed him to get as far as first base, but Sweeney comes up and sends Flanley a fly, the latter muffing, and Sweeney forces Asa to second, where he is put out. Charlie Mills notices Sweeney attempt to steal to second, and his judgement was to throw the ball to Flanley, but it was a wild throw, and Sweeney got clear round to No. 3 before the progress of the ball was stopped. McVey, like he has done in a more close game, knocked the ball low and it bounded near second. This allowed Sweeney to tally and McVey to reach first. George Wright steps up, and, throwing aside his bat, lets the bat fly, and away goes the little globe, sailed, "in the wind's eye," clear over the carriages and crowd in right field, thus giving the striker a home run and aiding McVey to tally. Gould closed the inning by going out at first, through the exertions of Hatfield and E. Mills. Three runs. The score now on even innings stand five to two in favor of the Western Athletics.

THIRD INNING.

Mutuals—In going to the bat for this heat, with that fatal five staring at them from the bulletin-board, there was a determination to tie it, but with what effect was soon shown, and most emphatically dispelled. They returned with one score. E. Mills put to the center and reached his quarter pole; Flanley knocked a liner past the third, putting his predecessor to the second. Mr. C. went quietly out on a fly, by Leonard. Swandell seized the ashens bat, and by a short, stubby hit, made his first. E. Mills tallies by this. Eggle's funny throw to third is misjudged by Hatfield, and Leonard gets two bases as Harry tallies. Brainerd out on the fly by Eggle—a pretty running catch. Sweeney out on fly by Gebney. Four runs. Music—"How's That for High."

FORTH INNING.

Mutuals—Harry Wright passed a high cut to C. Mills. Swandell reached second by a hit to right field. Eggle directed his cork-centered sphere to Waterman, who stopped its erratic course, and touched Swandell. Eggle tallied, however, Carlton was pertinently interfered with by Geo. Wright, when the curtain closed with one run in this act.

Cincinnati—Brainerd went out on a foul ground by Mills. Sweeney sent a grounder in center field and got to first. McVey was less fortunate, as he was captured on the fly by Wolters. Two men out and no runs. George Wright, and the crisis for a "home run," hits to right field, and lodges safely on first; then he thinks he can make second. He tries it, and finds his judgment correct, and then Hatfield makes a dent and presented an argument against the revival of any reciprocity treaty with Canada which tends to lower the existing tariff in any respect. The high tariff men are working hard to prevent the negotiations of any treaty. The President merely listens to their efforts, and indicates no views of his own on this important question.

Associated Press Dispatches.
WASHINGTON, November 6. Senator Morton, who arrived here yesterday, was somewhat injured by a fall in the dark, at Pittsburgh; both hands were bruised, and his left thumb fractured. Otherwise the Senator is in good health, and will remain here until the meeting of Congress.

While he is in favor of the immediate recognition of the belligerent rights of Cuba, he has always been, he has not decided to make a speech in the Senate to that effect, at the opening of the Senate, as has been stated in the newspapers. The belief is becoming stronger here, among prominent men, that the administration is being done to the Cubans, and that it has no intention of assisting them in any manner. There is little doubt, however, that there is a very large majority in either house of Congress in favor of recognition, and it is thought some means will be provided by which the administration will become aware of the fact.

During the late canvass in Ohio some of the Federal officeholders did not respond to the calls for money to help defray the expenses of the campaign to the degree that was expected, and they were promised a settlement after the election. An effort is now being made to remove some of the tardy contributors, particularly in the Revenue Bureau, but no progress has been made thus far.

WASHINGTON, November 7. Commissioner Delano has written the following circular letter to collectors of internal revenue: "The ruling of this office in regard to the addition of water to spirits has, it seems, been misunderstood. It has been ruled that the addition of pure water to spirits does not constitute rectification. Under the law some dealers have construed this rule as giving them the right to withdraw a part of the spirits from a stamped package and filling the same with water, without changing the marks and stamps of the package. Such drawing of spirits and filling with water, it will be observed, destroyed the identity between the package and its contents, as shown by the stamps and marks or brands, and is, in effect, a change of package. While it is conceded that the act is not illegal, it is, if it reduces the proof of his spirits by adding ingredients. In regard to the change of packages, when part of the spirits are withdrawn from a package, and the package filled with water, it is held to be a constructive withdrawal of spirits, and calls for an objection of the stamp and brands the same as in case of actual withdrawal. A package filled with water must be gauged, stamped, marked or branded the same as if it contained spirits. Changes to entirely different packages. Whenever spirits are found to vary in kind and proof from that shown on the stamp and brands on the packages, they should be seized. If the misapprehension alluded to exists in your district, you will please take the necessary steps to correct it."

MEXICO.
GOVERNOR SEWARD AMONG THE GREASERS.
His Expected Visit to the Capital.
Grand Preparations to Receive Him.
The Disturbances in San Louis Ended.
HAVANA, November 6. The regular mail steamer from Vera Cruz arrived at this port to-day, bringing dates from the City of Mexico to the 29th of October. Governor Seward had arrived at Guadalupe. He was everywhere received with enthusiasm. He was expected at the City of Mexico on the 4th, and grand preparations were being made to receive him. Reports of dissensions among the Ministry are unfounded. They are determined to rise or fall together with the government. It is reported the Americans in Mexico are displeased with the course of Minister Nelson. The disturbances in the State of San Louis Potosi have ended. Governor Bustine has resigned. Trevino has been elected Governor of Nueva Leon. A census of the Capital gives a population of 130,000. Several gendarmes, which pronounced against the government, have been defeated. Norton & Co. have presented a memorial to Congress to lay a submarine cable between Mexico and the United States. A force of 300 cavalry were given as an escort to Gov. Seward on his arrival. An accident had occurred at a silver mine, at Guanajuato, resulting in the killing of seven miners and dangerously wounding seven others. A new Cabinet will probably be formed. The local newspaper advises Mr. Romero to resign his position, as being beyond his capacity.

PHILADELPHIA.
The Jewish Convocation—Resolutions Adopted and Appointment of Committees.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—At the Jewish Convocation yesterday evening Dr. Hirsch pronounced a eulogy on the late Geo. Peabody. A resolution was adopted recognizing a divorce by law where both parties consent, but where issued against one party it shall not be recognized as valid unless demanded in accordance with Judaism. A resolution was passed that the command to marry the widow of a deceased brother, and of taking off shoes last for us, all understanding its validity and binding force. With reference to circumcision, the following resolutions were adopted: The male child of a Jewish mother, by its birth, not less than the female, in accordance with a principle never disputed in Judaism, is the member of the Jewish community. Resolutions were offered to dispense with the ceremony of circumcision to the proselytes to Judaism; also propositions in reference to the Sabbath, mixed marriages, the establishment of a college, the modification of the directory laws, which were all referred to a committee, with instructions to report to a subsequent conference. Committees were appointed on questions of public worship and marital relations, with Dr. Duham as chairman; on Sabbath observance, Dr. Adly as chairman; on secular and congregational affairs, Dr. Deutsch as chairman; on rhetorical questions, Dr. Hirsch as chairman. On motion of Dr. I. M. Wise, the conference resolved to meet again next year at Cincinnati.

A New Railroad Bridge.
LEAVENWORTH, November 6. The work of sinking the heavy iron columns for the piers of the iron railroad bridge over the Missouri river at this place, was commenced to-day. The work is expected to be completed in a few weeks, and the bridge has been under way for three months past, and is now well advanced.

ST. LOUIS.
Investigation of the Stonewall Disaster.
Organization of a Humane Society.
Captain Washington, of the Submarine No. 13.
Charges Against Him Being Investigated.
He Proves a Good Character.
ST. LOUIS, November 6. The examination of the officers and crew of the Submarine No. 13 was continued to-day, but nothing differing materially from what has been previously reported was brought out. All the witnesses testified to about the same thing, that there were no evidences of life on or about the wreck when the Submarine passed.

J. H. Conn, a merchant of this city, Captain Boffinger, President of the St. Louis and New Orleans Packet Company, H. Boffinger, agent of the Mobile and Ohio railroad, and others, testified to having known Captain Washington for many years, and that he has always borne a high character as a humane man, and stood at the head of his profession as commander of boats. He has been captain of some of the best boats on the Western rivers. He had taken great interest in suffering and destitute people; had taken them on his wharves and provided for them and nursed them, in some cases when sick even with contagious diseases. The examinations will be continued Monday.

ST. LOUIS, November 7. The Local Board of Supervising Inspectors of Steamboats have been investigating the Stonewall disaster, and have taken a large amount of testimony. A report will be made by Mr. Sanford, the Supervising Inspector, as soon as the first engineer recovers sufficiently to give his testimony.

A preliminary meeting for the organization of a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals was held last night. A committee was appointed to prepare an address to the public and draft a constitution and by-laws to be submitted to a subsequent meeting.

J. G. Saxe, who has been spending a few days here, will lecture for the benefit of the public-school library to-morrow evening.

Arrangements will be made in a few days for the transfer of freight, without breaking bulk, between the Iron Mountain and Mobile and Ohio Railroads at Belmont, Mo., and Columbus, Ky. CHICAGO.
The Smith Murder Trial Closed.
CHICAGO, November 7. The trial of the Rev. Mr. Smith, charged with murder, closed yesterday. The evidence introduced was only circumstantial. The principal circumstances against the prisoner were that the stream in which Mrs. Smith was drowned was not more than 25 or 30 feet wide and from 17 to 20 inches deep, and it was proved that a hole was made in the bottom of the stream, and that he had $9,000 in his wife's life, and that he was building a house at the time which would cost them

$5,000, while his salary was only $4,000 or $5,000 a year, and was without other income; and further, that the accounts he gave after the accident were contradictory and irreconcilable with each other. The defense called as witness Mrs. Benton, sister of Mr. Smith, whose testimony was strongly against the presumption that Smith had drowned his wife.

The court adjourned until Monday. The prisoner will pretty surely be acquitted.
